MANHOOD HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Nervous Excitability, Neuralgia, Headache, Diseases of Sight and Hearing, Habits of Dissipation, etc.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Ingalls' Arraignment of Black.

The correspondent of the Pittsburgh Telegraph says that Senator Ingalls of Kansas is rapidly gaining the distinction of being the ablest speaker in the United States senate. He says something when he talks, which is more than can be truthfully asserted of the majority of the senators of that body and he speaks clearly and plainly, which is also a virtue rather remarkable for in the ... amongst them. He ... and vindictive to an astonishing degree. ... senators beat around the bush and try to fight their enemies in the corners of the room and behind doors, but Ingalls fights in any time and any place. On Tuesday of last week during the closing session of ... Mr. Ingalls made a speech in opposition to some of Mr. Voorhees' remarks, which may be read in two ways. first to get a clear cut, graphic picture of the speaker after the great fraud who occupies the chief seat in the gentlemen's and second to show what Mr. Ingalls can do in the way of invective. It is unfortunate that all of it is such language as to prohibit ... quotes with the Indiana senator cannot be used. The ... of the arraignment of the man who receives the largest pension in the country, and yet who seems to take pleasure in presenting worthy veterans from receiving the ... pittance the law allows them.

No person however large can be compensation for such ... John A. Charles Black received. No man would go through the horrors of war and the battle's confusion, no man would be torn and rent by shot and shell as he was for $100 a month. But what I protest against is that he, enjoying this pension obtained upon those pretexts, signalizes his advent into the place he now holds by protesting against the payment of smaller pensions to men who were as greatly disabled as he was, and that he to-day stands advising and co-operating with the president of the United States in ... little measures of relief at $8 a month to private pensioners who could not secure sufficient evidence to establish their claims before the pension office. I protest against his enjoying that pension of $100 a month when he has been lawyer, politician, ... sioner of pensions for years and years since it was granted to him, no more physically disabled than the senator from Indiana is enjoying that pension upon pretensions that do not exist now at the same time using the powers of his great office to prevent the payment of pensions which had been lawfully and properly granted.

Here was a citizen of my own State, Robinson, a man who for nineteen years never had seen the light of the sun nor the face of wife or child, whose claim had been examined and re-examined and fought and contested for years, and was finally allowed by the ...
